TO DIE THIS MORNING

Herbert Feyton, a Negro, of King George County, to Be Electracuted.

Governor Mann's refusal yesterday of a stay of sentence means that Herbert Peyton, a negro, of King George County, convicted of Killing sanother negro on July 4, will pay the extreme penalty of the law this morning at daybreak in the electric chair at the pentientiary. The sheoting occurred on a Fourth of July party after the nagrees present had stocked up on third-rail whiskey. It was claimed by the defense that no premeditation had been proyen, and a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment was asked from the Governor. A telegram from the Commonwealth's attorney of King George yesterday morning to the effect that the murder was "wanton, deliberate and premeditated and without extenuation" strengthened Governor Mann in his decision not to interfere in the course of the law.

Congressman Slemp made the following statement to-day in regard to the ing statement to-day in regard to the recent election:

"I have read the statement of General Ayers in regard to the use of money and whickey in my interest in the recent election. If any money or whiskey was used improperly in my interest the offenders ought certainly to be punished, and I certainly shall protect no one, because I urged our party people in the district, both publicly and privately, to abide in good spirit by our Bristel agreement. I believe that agreement was lived up to in good faith in practically every precinct in the congressional district. I believe we had the fairest, cleanest, purest election ever held in the congressional district, and while there may have been isolated examples of wrongdoing on both sides, I do not believe that such was the condition in the district at large, nor do I believe, from the information I have received from every county, that it was such as to affect he vote received by either General Ayers or myself.

"I hope that a complete and full in-

"I hope that a complete and full investigation will be made by both political parties and the facts given to the ical parties and the facts given to the public.

'The Democratic campaign was conducted upon the idea that the Republicans' vote would be split and that Graham would take away enough votes to insure my defeat. This plan failed, and I was therefore re-elected. I cannot properly and sufficiently thank my friends who brought about my election. Circumstances were such that I did not even get to visit some of the counties, and many of them I did not make a speech in. I felt when I was nominated at Bristol I would be elected, because if the people had not been forme I would not have been nominated, and having been nominated by them they proceeded to elect me. This is the short, simple story of the election."
